

REAL ESTATE NEWS

William Pitt Sotheby's agent named Darien Board of Realtors Realtor of the Year

William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty agent Bryan Morris has been named the 2017 Realtor of the Year by the Darien Board of Realtors for his commitment to service as president of both the Darien Board and Multiple Listing Service.

Morris was bestowed the honor by a special committee of past Board presidents, adding to the many accomplishments he has achieved in Fairfield County.

In 2014, Morris was ranked No. 2 in units sold in the Darien office; he then rose to No. 1 in this category in 2015 and

Bryan Morris

Business Journal.

He is a three-time Gold Superstar winner and two-time Platinum Superstar winner.

He is also a standing member of the Professional Standards Committee and a Director of Connecticut Realtors.

"Bryan deserves every

2016. Also in 2014, he was named a Fairfield County "40 Under 40" Winner by the Fairfield County bit of this honor," said Lynley Middleber, manager of William Pitt Sotheby's International Realty's Darien and Rowayton brokerages. "His steadfast commitment and undeniable passion for the business are evident in his everyday service to clients and positive contributions to the team. He is dedicated to and exemplifies the Realtor code of ethics and is known by his peers as an honest, hardworking professional who balances community service and his leadership role with professionalism. We are all very proud of Bryan for this great accomplishment."